Data Sheet

Our Mission

MultiTrans, the market-leading Translation Management System (TMS), allows you to manage content in multiple languages, supported by a full team of sector experts. MultiTrans users communicate with confidence to global target audiences while streamlining complex processes and keeping costs down.

Organizations around the globe use MultiTrans to prepare, manage, approve and deliver their multilingual content. This ensures their message is clear, coherent, and delivered on time.

SDL* MultiTrans TMS

Centralized, accessible localization, all-in-one service

Ease of use. Universally accessible. 360 solution.

With MultiTrans, you can easily set up your own localization team, with long-time expertise in all domains, in the cloud. Hire a team of expert translators and project managers devoted to your projects, shorten your time to market with minimal or no upfront costs.

Forget about process creation or adaptation. Externalize the bulk of the localization effort to a trusted Language Solutions Provider (LSP). MultiTrans Managed handles vendor management, file engineering, translation, editing, content management – the entire process, in fact-allowing you to concentrate on delivering value to your own clients.

Streamline your localization and translation

We have bundled up our TMS with our linguistic services in a product called MultiTrans Managed. Streamline your localization and translation efforts in one place: submit documents, approve quotes, and expect results. Forget about the pain of controlling a highly complex process with MultiTrans Managed.

Our secure, cloud-based managed solution combines the market-leading MultiTrans TMS technology with sector specific language services. When in-house localization is not an option, try a 360 solution. Simply upload your source documents, and download your target documents when the translations are ready. Let Donnelley Language Solutions blend its proprietary MultiTrans technology with professional linguistic services into a one-stop-shop with MultiTrans Managed TMS.

Awarded Market Leader category in Common Sense Advisory's TMS reports in 2014 and 2016.

Business-oriented TMS

- Including built-in translation memories with Advance Leveraging Translation Memory functionality provides our clients with faster word processing, quick document retrieval, less repetition and less costs in general.
- Enterprise focus means for our client a flexible solution that better adapts to their complex workflows. A module-based technology manages single processes or full projects.

Comprehensive TMS

- Our strong focus on business features like cost controls or quoting provides our clients with the perfect tool to have a 360 view over their projects.
- Keeping documents indexed in the translation memories prevents our clients from losing track of any document—especially important in heavily regulated sectors.

A suite of profiles with different levels of permissions will provide your team with global access at every step of the process. Every stakeholder is involved in the process globally.
